

Who we are

FairTunes is a UK charity dedicated to using the power of music to change people's lives. We provide music and radio recording and training facilities to economically disadvantaged communities in developing nations. The charity was created by experienced music and radio professionals, who wanted to pass on their expertise to improve the prospects of less fortunate communities.

What we do

FairTunes builds and sets up music studios and radio facilities. We also deliver free training in music production and live sound engineering, and help artists build their profile by showcasing their work. In addition we provide training in radio production. Through radio FairTunes offer a way for communities to sustain their history and culture as well as providing a platform for expression.

Want to know more?

Why not start off by signing up to our mailing list? You can also simply spread the word, go on line shopping or even connect us with organizations who may like to sponsor our projects. We are also keen to work with like-minded organizations. In fact, we welcome any suggestions that will help us achieve our goals, see our get involved webpage for further information.

Please contact Anna Muir | anna@fairtunes.org | +44 (0) 7818 065 386 | www.fairtunes.org